RAY PERKINS

Head Coach/Vice President-Football Operations

As he enters his second season, Ray Perkins has already made his mark directing the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Perkins brought his legendary commitment to the work ethic to the Bucs in 1987 with dramatic results. Establishing discipline, intensity and organization as trademarks, Perkins' first Buccaneer team showed significant improvement last year with a young and revitalized roster that carries the promise of more success in the future.

The Buccaneers' improvement comes as no surprise to those who have followed Perkins' career. As a player he performed to the peak of his ability in earning All-America honors at Alabama and developing into a successful professional.

As a coach he has displayed remarkable abilities as a strategist, motivator and organizer — first in resuscitating the ailing New York Giants and then in successfully carrying on the legacy of Bear Bryant at Alabama.

Perkins was fresh from his third bowl victory in four years at Alabama when Buccaneer owner Hugh Culverhouse selected him as Tampa Bay's third coach on December 31, 1986. Armed with knowledge obtained in his successful tenure with the Giants, Perkins plunged right to work in quickly assembling a respected coaching staff and supervising a record selection of 20 players in the 1987 draft. Fourteen of those draft picks were among the league-high 20 rookies who played for the 1987 Buccaneers.

"I believe in young people," says Perkins. "I think you can be successful with them. If they're willing to work, you can accomplish a lot."

Walter Ray Perkins was a young person who showed his desire to work hard from an early age. Born in Mount Olive, Mississippi on November 6, 1941 he became known for his hectic schedule. Living in Petal, Mississippi where his father W.T. Perkins was a carpenter and contractor, he was an All-America fullback and all-state basketball player at Petal High School while working mornings and evenings at a gas station.

Recruited to Alabama his playing career was slowed by a head injury in spring practice that required brain surgery. He was redshirted in 1963, then went on to three outstanding seasons as the top passing target of quarterbacks Joe Namath, Steve Sloan and Ken Stabler. He was a leader of Alabama's 1964 and 1965 national champion teams. In 1966 Alabama went undefeated as Perkins was the SEC Player of the Year and a first team All-America.

He was at his best in big games, catching 159 yards worth of passes against Nebraska in Alabama's January 1, 1966 national championship-clinching win in the Orange Bowl. A year later he caught 178 yards worth of passes against the Cornhuskers in the Sugar Bowl. Both figures remain yards receiving records for those bowls.

His final regular season statistics total 63 receptions for 908 yards and nine touchdowns. He also was a member of the Alabama track team competing in the 100-yard dash, long jump, triple jump and relays. Perkins graduated in May, 1967 with a degree in education.

He was a seventh round draft choice of the Baltimore Colts that year and played five seasons before a series of knee injuries ended his career. As a Colt, Perkins added John Unitas and Earl Morrall to the illustrious list of quarterbacks he played with, catching 93 passes for 1,538 yards and 11 touchdowns. He played in two Super Bowls (III and V). At Alabama and Baltimore, the eight teams he played for went 83-10-2 (.892).

After briefly exploring a career in real estate, Perkins quickly returned to football. His first position was receivers coach at Mississippi State in 1973.

He moved to the NFL the next year, coaching the wide receivers for the New England Patriots from 1974 to 1977. While with the Patriots he also devoted time in the spring as a volunteer coach at a nearby state prison. In 1978, he became offensive coordinator for the San Diego Chargers and the team led the NFL in passing and scoring.

Perkins' successes captured the attention of the New York Giants who hired him as head coach in 1979. In four seasons, Perkins turned around a lethargic team operating at low ebb. Drafting such talents as Phil Simms, Lawrence Taylor and Joe Morris, Perkins marched his young team into the playoffs in his third season, 1981. The Giants won their first playoff appearance in 18 years, defeating Philadelphia, 27-21, before falling to San Francisco, the eventual Super Bowl champion.

Perkins was then chosen as the hand-picked successor to Bear Bryant when the great Alabama coach retired on December 14, 1982.

At Alabama, Perkins quickly added the duties of athletic director to his head coaching position. On the field he won nearly 70 percent of his games (32-15-1) including three Bowl games. After two years of establishing his program, his final two Tide teams went 19-5-1 (.792) against schedules ranked as among the nation's toughest. In addition he orchestrated the rapid and significant expansion of facilities at Alabama to where today they are second to none in collegiate athletics.

He was selected by The Birmingham News as SEC Coach of the Year in 1985 and honored by the University of Alabama Alumni Association as "Man of the Year" in 1982.

Perkins has been married for 26 years to the former Carolyn Martin. They have two sons. Tony (24) is a graphic artist and Mike (21) is the Bucs' assistant video director and college student.

Perkins is extremely interested in youth related charities particularly the Big Oak Ranch near Glencoe, Alabama where he donated a dormitory. In the Tampa Bay area he has been active with the Multiple Sclerosis Society. His hobbies include tinkering with automobiles and golf.

TAMPA STADIUM

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR: Joe Zalupski

STADIUM MANAGER: Rick Nafe

ADDRESS: North Dale Mabry Highway, Tampa, FL 33607

CAPACITY: 74,314

TELEPHONE: (813) 872-7977

On May 20, 1987 Tampa Stadium was designated as the host stadium for Silver Anniversary Super Bowl XXV to be played in January, 1991. Tampa Stadium first proved it could host the NFL's championship game on January 22, 1984 when the Los Angeles Raiders defeated the Washington Redskins, 38-9, in Super Bowl XVIII.

With a minimum of excess area around the field, seats clustered around mid-field and no pillars obstructing view, Tampa Stadium offers excellent sightlines for fans of any event. The high grade Bermuda grass with its 18-inch crown has excellent drainage and ranks high on all lists of outstanding playing surfaces in the NFL.

With the addition of extra seating in 1983 Tampa Stadium now seats 74,314 for Buccaneer games (including 57 private boxes over the east stands). With the addition, Tampa Stadium is now the third largest stadium in the NFC. Only the Pontiac Silverdome and Giants Stadium can boast greater capacity.

The Super Bowl game between the Los Angeles Raiders and the Washington Redskins set a new stadium attendance record of 72,920. The prior mark of 72,033 was set at the January 6, 1980 NFC Championship Game between the Buccaneers and the Los Angeles Rams.

The stadium originally seated 46,500 fans in concrete stands along either sideline. Construction started in October, 1966 and Tampa Stadium was dedicated on November 7, 1967. The initial structure cost only $4.6 million. In this configuration it served as home to the University of Tampa as well as other college football games and professional preseason contests.

As part of the awarding of an NFL franchise to Tampa Bay in 1975, the end zones were enclosed to raise seating capacity to over 72,000. Other additions in 1975 were new computerized scoreboards at either end and an additional level on the press box above the west stands.

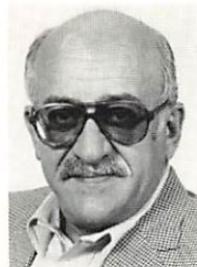

The complex is administered by the Tampa Sports Authority, a public board composed of 11 members from both the city of Tampa and Hillsborough County which was established by the State of Florida in 1965.

Tampa Stadium is also the home of the College Hall of Fame Bowl inaugurated in December, 1986.

BUCCANEER BAND & SWASH-BUC-LERS

Patti Bean

Tony Polacelli

The Buccaneer Band is one of only three NFL team bands. From a quiet beginning in 1977 the band has grown to nearly 100 members with a rapidly diversifying skilled musical sound. A volunteer organization, the Buc Band practices twice a week most of the year under direction of director Tony Polacelli.

The Buccaneer Band participates in much more than just game day functions. Sponsored by Paragon Music Centers, the Band is often asked to entertain at various functions.

Leading cheers and dancing to the sound of the Buccaneer Band are the Swash-buc-lers. The group was founded with the team in 1976 and has 36 members. The squad performs many complicated dance routines during breaks in the game action in addition to leading the crowd in cheers. The squad's talented and dedicated director and choreographer is Pattie Bean, in her ninth year with the squad. J.C. Penney's again sponsors the squad's uniform.

Champion, 37, also serves as network coordinator for WRBQ. Prior to joining WRBQ in 1987, he spent three years as sports director at WSUN and 11 years in that same capacity at WDAE in Tampa. Known for his enthusiasm, authority, accuracy and resonant voice, Champion first joined the Buc broadcast team in 1979. He is a graduate of Ball State.

Crippen is sports director at WXFL-TV (since 1981) after 15 years in the same position with WTSP-TV.

Lane, 31, who joins the radio team this year, is a native of Paris, Tennessee and a graduate of Murray State University. ## INSTANT REPLAY APPROVED FOR 1988

For the third consecutive year, NFL clubs have approved a limited system of Instant Replay on a one-year basis.

The system basically stays the same as in 1987 with the exception that the Replay Official will now be assigned to a regular officiating crew and will attend crew meetings the day before each game. League office personnel will no longer be used as Replay Officials. In 1987, there were 490 plays closely reviewed (defined as a contact to the field, but not necessarily stoppage of play). There were 57 reversals in 210 games for an average of one reversal in each four games. In 1986, there were 374 plays closely reviewed resulting in 38 reversals in 224 games.

In 1986, the system was approved by a 23-4-1 vote. In 1987, the vote was 21-7. In 1988, replay was cleared by a 23-5 margin.

The NFL has discussed Instant Replay in some degree or other since the early 1970s. The League experimented in 1976 and 1978 using two basic frameworks—an independent system using cameras, replay machines, and technicians separate from the network covering the game, and a "no frills" approach using existing television coverage.

In 1985, the NFL used the network feed of nine nationally televised preseason games to experiment with the basic system that later was adopted for 1986 and 1987. A total of 28 plays were examined closely in 1985 (17 confirmed call, 4 were inconclusive, 1 was reversed, and 6 had no replay shown).

What is the objective of this system?

The clubs feel that on certain plays the telecast viewed by the general public should be used to correct an indisputable error. The system will be used to reverse an on-field decision only when the Replay Official has indisputable visual evidence available to him that warrants the change.

Is the television network carrying the game part of the review process?

No. Although the Replay Official will be viewing the live network feed, there is no communication to television personnel as to what plays to show or not to show.

What is the step-by-step procedure of play review?

The Replay Official will view game action and a play will be replayed immediately on one of the two monitors, while the other monitor continues to record the live feed.

The Replay Official makes a determination if further study of the play is needed. If not, there is no contact with the field and play continues without interruption.

If the Replay Official believes an error may have been made, the Umpire will be contacted via a headset.

The Replay Official will watch replay(s) on one or both monitors and complete his review within a reasonable period after the play is over.

The Replay Official will inform the Umpire of his decision, and the Referee will make the appropriate announcement on the wireless microphone.

The limited Instant Replay system concentrates on plays of possession or touching (e.g., fumbles, receptions, interceptions, muffs) and most plays governed by the sidelines, goal lines, end lines, and line of scrimmage (e.g., receiver or runner in or out of bounds, forward or backward passes, breaking the plane of the goal line).

However, the Instant Replay system will not include the following fouls: clipping; encroachment and off-sides; grasp of facemask; false start; defensive pass interference; offensive pass interference; offensive holding and illegal use of hands; illegal batting or punching ball; illegal block on free kick or scrimmage kick; illegal crackback; illegal motion; illegal use of forearm or elbow; illegal use of hands by defense; illegally kicking the ball; illegally snapping the ball; intentional grounding; member of the punting team downfield early; illegal formation; palpably unfair act; piling on; roughing the passer; running into or roughing the kicker; striking, kicking, or kneeing; unnecessary roughness; unsportsmanlike conduct; and use of the helmet as a weapon.

Like football, at NCNB, banking is a contact sport.

But at NCNB it's contact of a different kind...we call it personal. Personal contact allows NCNB loan officer, Scott Adams, to understand the banking needs of Tampa Bay Buccaneer, Ervin Randle.

Call NCNB. After all, wouldn't contact with an NCNB loan officer be much easier than making contact with a 250 pound linebacker?
